Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Our IAM Bargaining Committee continues to work daily with Onex/Advanced Fabrication in regards to their potential deal to purchase Spirit's Fabrication and Machining Operations. Onex/Advanced Fabrication and Spirit are continuing to work towards an agreement that would move Spirit's Fabrication and Machining Operation under the umbrella of Onex/Advanced Fabrication. We plan on meeting through next week and will continue to exchange ideas on how this transition can work best for our members who would be affected by the deal.

We are happy to report that Onex/Advanced Fabrication remains excited about the prospect of having IAM members work in the Country's largest machining operation, which they have plans to build right here in the Wichita area. Onex/Advanced Fabrication has been listening to our ideas on how, together, we can make their potential operation a success.

Onex/Advanced Fabrication remains the only bidder that has expressed interest in keeping these jobs for our membership in Wichita. As always, we will continue to keep you posted on the status of our bargaining.

In Solidarity,

Frank Molina, DBR
